

R E S O L U T I O N

- WHEREAS The practice of sanitation is a noble calling from a service viewpoint, and of real significance to the public and;
- WHEREAS Sanitation does involve a science of substantial extent and of considerable difficulty in its mastery by a prospective practitioner, and;
- WHEREAS Sanitation does require a constant use of that science, in daily practice and continued study throughout his working life, and;
- WHEREAS Sanitation emphasizes a strict code of ethics upon all its practitioners in their relations to each other, to their employers and to their public clientele, and;
- WHEREAS Sanitation is adequately reflected in the nations regular educational system both for career making purposes and in the form of general survey courses for the lay student, and;
- WHEREAS Sanitation strives to attain public professional recognition of the calling, as a whole, through a large and evergrowing percentage of its practitioners who in their daily work are meeting the adopted professional, educational and ethical standards;

BE IT RESOLVED by this convention body of the Arizona Public Health Association that the passage of a Registration Act for Sanitarians containing appropriate standards and examinations be endorsed by this body for enactment by the legislative bodies of the State of Arizona.
